AGM HELD ON THE 16TH DECEMBER 2023

The tenure of the 2nd Chairman of NISafetyE Delta State Chapter, Engr. Isaac A. Aikoroje, MNISafetyE and his Executives came to an end in December, 2023. Consequently, the AGM that was held on the 16th December, 2023 at the NSE Warri Branch Secretariat, produced an Executive Committee that will run the affairs of the Chapter in 2024. The AGM was well attended. Engr. Dr. Andrew M. Abanum, MNSE, FNIPetE, FNISafetyE represented the National Chairman, Engr. Dr. Akaninyene Ekong, MNSE, FNISafetyE, in the occasion.

The theme of the Public Lecture is “Global Climate Change: Rise In Temperature” The guest speaker is Prof. Okeke Gerald Ndubuisi, a Professor of Safety & Environment. After the delivery, the paper was by the moderator, Engr. Mrs. Onajite Marian Otoku, summarized the lecture and took the audience into the question and answer session. At the end Certificates of presentation and moderation were given to the guest speaker and moderator.

At the end of the Public Lecture, it was time to present the Executive Committee report to the House. The minutes of the 2022 AGM were read by the General Secretary, Engr. Mrs. Onajite Marian Otoku, MNSE, MNSChE, MNSafetyE. After corrections were made to the minutes, the motion for its adoption as corrected was moved and seconded. Matters arising from the minutes were deliberated upon. Other reports presented and accepted by the House were the Financial Secretary Report and Internal Audit Committee Report.

After closing comments on the reports, the motion for the temporary dissolution of the Exco was moved and seconded; to pave the way for the General Election that will usher in the 2024 Executives to run the affairs of the Chapter.

Consequently, the Chairman of the Electoral Committee, Engr. Ohwodo Goodluck, Tony. Akpomemine and other members of the Committee took over the high table for the conduct of the election. Apart from the position of the Chairman and Publicity Secretary, other members of the 2023 Exco were returned unopposed and stood elected to serve in the 2024 Exco.

During the occasion, the first prize of the NSE Warri Branch Chapters Group Dynamics won by the NISafetyE Delta State Chapter was presented to Engr. Dr. Andrew Monday Abanum, who represented the National Chairman by Engr. Isaac Aruya Aikoroje, the Chapter Chairman. A National “Safety Advocacy Award” was presented to Engr. JANUARY, 2024 WEBINAR - CONSTRUCTION SAFETY

Construction sites are dynamic activities where workers engage in many activities that may expose them to a variety of safety hazards, such as falling objects, falling from rooftops or scaffolding, exposure to heavy construction equipment, or the use of temporary electrical circuits while operating electrical equipment and machinery in damp locations.

Construction activities in Delta State and the country as a whole comprise a wide range of activities including construction of new buildings, renovation of existing facilities, and major repair or alterations of building systems and workers are seriously exposed to the hazards of working in these areas. Many building construction workers have died as a result of these hazards due to lack of the knowledge of safe work practices in these areas.

Through implementation of Safe Work Practices, Training, and compliance with Federal, State, and Local Regulatory Requirements, the Construction Safety aims to identify, control, or mitigate construction-related hazards. That is what this webinar is about to address.

The Webinar took place virtually on the 31st January, 2024 at 6 pm. It was delivered by a Structural Engineer, an erudite scholar, Engr. Dr. Sony Emeka Ali, BEng, MEng, MBA, CPM, DSc, DPA, FNSE, FNICE, FNIStructE, FAutoEI, FNISafetyE, FCILG, FIMS, FAIPA, FBDFM, FCIA, CMC, former Chairman of NICE, Chairman NSE, Warri Branch, Chairman, APBN. The paper was moderated by Adedoyin Adetunji MNSE MNICE, MNISafetyE a Civil Engineer by profession
